Get the Lowdown on Independent Expenditures

California Legislative races are multi-million dollar enterprises. What's driving the race for dollars higher and higher? Independent expenditures, the unlimited third party spending for and against candidates, are a big part of the answer.

Candidates struggling to be heard above the high volume between competing special interests are forced to find more and more donors. How can lower volume messages get through? Is there an alternative to these proxy wars? What's a candidate to do?
